

Leading Your People with Vision & Accountability

This course is crafted for upper-level managers, equipping them with the skills to lead with vision and accountability. Participants will also improve their innovative mindset, fostering creativity at the individual, business unit, and organizational levels. Additionally, this program provides ample opportunities for participants to collaborate with their peers, building trust and teamwork.

Through engaging sessions featuring real case examples, interactive activities, and site visits, participants will gain comprehensive insights into becoming a visionary leader and learn to align their personal goals with their company's overarching goal.

In addition, participants will engage in a highly interactive team activity in the beautiful city of Seoul. Participants will forge valuable connections with business leaders from other companies and acquire key takeaways to implement within their own organizations.
